- In addition to selected U.S. patents, February's Online Extras include a CTBUH investigation of unfinished tall buildings; previous EW articles on Otis' Odyssey, which bears resemblances to the planned ThyssenKrupp Elevator MULTI; extra photos from EURO-LIFT 2014 in Poland and IGV Group's Miami premiere of DomusLift Corner; and the Web Exclusive "Rising in Style."

IGV ELEVATOR US NAMES PRESIDENT: John Antona, CEIS, QEI-S, has been named president of IGV Elevator US, Inc. Antona is also president of consultancy Vertical Transport Technology Corp. of Plantation, Florida, which he founded in 1996. He was most recently the longtime chief of the Elevator Safety Division, Building Department, of the City of Miami Beach, Florida. Prior to that post, he was International Sales manager for Motion Control Engineering and Southern California Zone manager for ThyssenKrupp Elevator. He also served the latter company and Dover Elevator in various roles between 1978 and 1991. Some of his strategic goals are to set up and organize a U.S. office, introduce an ultramodern residential elevator with pre-engineered luxury finishes as a standard package, establish a group of dealers, and organize quality control.
